

Suitable Habitats for Bobcats in Vermont 2021

This conservation plan is based on spatial analysis and habitat modeling for the Vermont Department of Natural Resources with bobcats as an umbrella species. The map shows regions or land areas that should be prioritized for protection and the wildlife corridors connecting them.

The model placed emphasis on areas close to streams, steeper inclines, and location with forested or shrubby green vegetation.

Author: Lydia Teinfalt
Date: November 10, 2021
Source: GWU Geography, ESRI
Projection: NAD 1983 StatePlane
Vermont VIPS 4400 (Meters)